Deputy Sheriff Nickel found Schnell be hind the counter in his grocery at No. 1344 Chouteau avenue. He became indignant when told he was under arrest. He declared he could not leave his store, bu Nickel argued that it was better to come than to wait until the Judges were gone home. Schnell then telephoned Fred Herkert of No. 3223 Copelin avenue to ask him to sign the bond.

Herkert met Schnell and the deputy a the Four Courts. Herkert qualified for $50,-000. The bond which he signed was for $2,000. When it was signed the two started away from the building. Schnell was asked by a reporter if he had any statement to make. He turned sharply about, said "no" emphatically and walked hurriedly down the stairway.

Judge William M. Kinsey, Schnell's attorney, said he could make no statemen till he had seen the indictment. Miss Schnell, a daughter of Louis Schnell, was a witness before the Grand Jury yesterday morning. KERENS DEPENDS ON PHELPS TO ELECT HIM TO SENATE.

Developments in the "Harmony Agreement" Indicate That the Two Colonels With Railroad Influence Are Working to That End-Phelps Controls Meriwether and Allied Third Party Movements and They Will Be Swung Into Line-Frank Roberts Explains His Connection With Conference.

R. C. KERENS, Republicat, National Committ depends upon Colonel Pheips to send him to the United States Senate.

Latest developments in the "harmony agreement" of the Republicans show that Colonel R. C. Kerens is depending upon Colonel William H. Phelps to elect him to the United States Senate. According to the facts which came to light yesterday after the arrival of Frank P. Roberts from Springfield, the Republican National Committeeman has practically given the management of his campaign into the hands of olonel Phelps and the Missouri Pacific

The recent "agreement," about which so nuch has been said in the two Republican newspapers of this city, was engineered by Alex G. Cochran, general attorney of the Missouri Pacific, and Colonel Phelps, "leg-islative agent" for the same road. The alleged "basis of harmony" was fostered in the office of Attorney Cochran, where Colonei Kerens and his friends were in confer-ence previous to calling Frank Roberts from the side of State Chairman Akins.

No Agreement Made.

This, in brief, is the essence of the plot which the overanxiety of the Republican National Committeeman has made public. With the arrival of Roberts came the gradual unfolding of the scheme upon which Colonel Kerens has been depending for so long a time. So far as any "agreement" having been reached between Akins and Kerens is concerned, there is none. So far as Roberts is connected, he repudlates an "agreement" both in statement which he gave out for publication and in private declarations to his friends.

The Globe-Democrat and the Star have declared that there will be no action taken at the State Convention relative to the United States senatorship, this being part of the "agreement" made under the direction of the two Missouri Pacific attorneys. If the sentiments expressed yesterday at a conference in the office of Charles Nagel hald good, the only "harmony" which will be tolerated will be through the elimination of Kerens. Having him beaten in his efforts to elect a State chairman, it is the intention to have the State Convention take action upon the United States senatorship. This probably will be the issue before the State Convention.

Many Conferences Are Held. Frank Roberts arrived at the State headquarters vesterday morning. He was ac-companied by J. H. Duncan of Springfield, quarters vesterday morning. He was accompanied by J. H. Duncan of Springfield, member of the State Committee from the Seventh District. Shortly after their arrival they went into conference with Chairman Akins. They then went to the headquarters of Colemel Kerens, where Roberts made the atmosphere blue by the use of several choice adjectives describing the action of the Kerensites in proclaiming that an "agreement" and "compromise" had been made between Akins and Kerens.

A score or more of party workers called at the headquarters of the State Committee to learn Roberts's explanation. An extended conference was held between Roberts, Charles Nagel and James L. Minnis. As a result, another and larger conference was held at Mr. Nagel's office in the afternoon, those present discussing the situation from 2:20 until after 6 o clock. At the afternoon conference were Bert D. Norton of New Cambria, J. H. Duncan and Frank P. Roberts of Springfield. D. Pat Dyer, Charles R. Gallenkump, James L. Minnis, George D. Reynolds, Matt G. Reynolds, Robert C. Dar, W. Lafe Stardevant, E. C. Rowse, Clinton H. Welsh, Charles R. Graves, H. A. Baker and Mr. Nagel.

The Lobby in Charge.

The Lobby in Charge.

The Lobby in Charge.

To his friends gathered in this conference. Frank Roberts explained his part in the "agreement," It was as follows: He received a telephone message from Mr. Cochran asking him to step over to the office of the general attorney for the Missouri Pacific. When he arrived there he found Colonel Phelps, Mr. Cochron, Colonel Kerens, Nathan Frank, E. A. Rozier and E. L. Durham, They had been in conference for some time. Durham, recently appointed United States Matshal in Kansas City, was hand in glove with the Phelps-Kerens combination, and remained so throughout the discussion which followed.

Mr. Cochran opened matters by stating that Akins had Kerens beaten on the State chairmanship, and that the latter wanted to make some sort of terms whereby the convention would not take up the senatorship matter. Roberts understood this to mean that Kerens and Phelps thought they could control the Republican members of the General Assembly, whereas they would have more difficulty in directing the convention.

Roberts remarked that he could not see the use of his name by any one in connection

Roberts remarked that he could not see any compromise in Kerens quitting the fight for the chairmanship, as Rozier, Kerens's candidate, had captured only one county out of sixty-five. Mr. Frank insisted that it was a compromise, nevertheless. Roberts said that as far as he was personally concerned, he did not believe that the convention should take up the senatorship; that he had always thought so, and that he intended to work against it.

Phelps Was Much Interested. Other matters were then discussed. Phelps offered many suggestions and took a dively interest in the proceedings. In regard to a vice chairman, Roberts said that he would fight either John B. Gwen er Nathan Frank, whom Kerens suggested. Roberts to mame would fight either John B. Owen er Nathan Frank, whom Kerens suggested. Roberts explained that they had no tight to name a man—the convention nad that in charge. Kerens asked him how he liked Howard Gray of Carthage, a brother-in-law of Phelps. Roberts said that he nersonally had no grievance against Gray. Regarding an executive committee of five, Roberts explained that that matter would have to be plained that that matter would have to be decided by the new State Committee, and decided by the new State Committee and not by them.

Rozler suggested that the Globe-Democrat be informed of the "agreemen on the State chalrmanship and the Senatorship matter. Roberts then went over the Globe office with Rozler, where the latter said that he would withdraw from the race for the chairmanship. Roberts said that he believed no indorsement of a senatorial can-that he would withdraw from the race for the chairmanship. Roberts said that he believed no irdorsement of a senatorial candidate would be made at the convention. The editorial announcement of "harmon," followed in both the Globe-Democrat and the Star.

Roberts's Statement for Publication.

All that Mr. Roberts would say for publication is contained in the following statement, which he gave out after the conference in Mr. Nagel's office:

"I was telephoned to come to the office of Mr. Cochran. Mr. Keners and some of his friends were there in conference. They told me that all opposition to Mr. Akins's election would be withdrawn, which I was, of course, glad to hear. They asked me how I stood on the question of indorsing any one for Senator in the State Convention. I told them that I had always been and was now, as a matter of good politics, opposed to such indopsements; that it would be unfair to do this when the call of a State Committee did not include it, and that it would be unprecedented in this State, and I promised to oppose any such attempt.

"Other things were afterwards talked of, among them candidates for vice chairman

COLONEL WILLIAM PHELPS.
Who is said to have agreed to assist Kerens in his race for the United States senatorship.

and possible composition of an Executive Committee. No agreement was made as to these, for the obvious reason that these selections rest entirely within the discretion of the State Convention and the State Committee when elected. Men have to be elected before they can be designated for these placs. It was well understood that in all things I snoke distinctly for myself. Perfonally I am aways gad to do what I can to minimise the difficulties of the party, and if I have in any sense contributed to that end I am glad of it.

The Phetos-Kercus Deal. The Phelps-Kerens Deal.

and if I have in any sense contributed to that end I am glad of it."

The Phelps-Kerens Deal.

One Republican who claims to be informed of the Phelps-Kerens plans summed them up yesterday as follows: "This deal has been going on for some time, but until the two Colonels played their hands so openly there was nothing but circumstantial evidence against them. Phelps has practically every Republican member of the House and every Republican member of the House and every Republican Senator under his thumb. He expects to control the Republicans in the next General Assembly is the same manner.

"So that if he was to elect Kerens, he was compelled to defer action on the United States senatorship until affer the State Convention. He cannot control the Akins delegates to the convention. He could afford to give up anything in order to delay this matter until the Ceneral Assembly is elected.

"He has been the motive power behind the Meriwether and allied third-party movements. The leaders of these two organizations are under his direction. They have both declared war against William J. Stone. Though the Chambers crowd, allas the Third party, and the Meriwether push, including such lights as H. Martin Williams Cardwell, Ingles and others, are ostendibly fighting each other, they arrange matters so that little harm is done.

"If the Phelps-Kerens clique can carry a few members of the Legislature, with Meriwether or Chambers, it is the intention to put them in the Republican cancus on the United States senatorship. This would cost money, but Kerens has the price.

"The only thing that the Republicans can do is to settle the matter in the State Convention. As long as the Phelps-Kerens deal premises to go through, we cannot make a campaign in Missouri. Delay in this matter means that the barty is pledged to carrying the Phelps-Kerens plans through to the finish. The State Convention can prevent this by nominating any man other than Kerens."

to withdraw the vote by polling the delegations.

The entire day has been taken up with balloting and recesses. During the recesses all kinds of trades have been offered, but the district is composed of counties from two judicial districts, and the delegates are afraid of bargains, and the two counties not in these districts block either district for nominating. The six hundred and sixth ballot was taken before the evening adjournment and there is no sign of a break. The rulings of Chairman Albert Watson are demanding admiration, and he has never relinquished his place or a moment.

Let us bury all our differences; let us do all our fighting against the enemy. Let us be Republicans; let us indorse thoroughly that griendia Republican, our President, Theodore Reosevelt."

In restourse to a general demand, Congressman Long, one of the lenders of the fight in the House for Cuban reciprocity, made a speech, in which he said:

The Cuban reciprocity bill has passed the House, and it will pass the Senate or there will be an extra session of Congress. If there is an extra session, my friends in the Seventh District must prepare to take care of my campaign, for we will stay there

Married

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all book, telling all about remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little Mother's this liniment, will be sent free.

The Sunday Republic Poster

Of next Sunday will be the brightest, most attractively colored drawing of the series. Larger than the others and more striking in effect, it will portray a fascinating type of girl beauty.

Hats for Young Girls:

An authoritative review of the season's novelties in juvenile headdress; will tell mothers what to buy and how to get the best and most stylish creations. The accompanying pictures will show how the hats should be worn.

Summer Toggery for Children: Will describe the newest suits and dresses and will show a great number of half-tone pictures.

Submerged Lands in Missouri:

A notable historical article; outlines some interesting phases of volcanic phenomena. Illustrated.

Frank G. Carpenter, Who Is Now in London,

Writes of the American invasion of England. His camera shows the world's largest city as it is in 1902.

Lady Curzon, Who Leads Society in the Orient:

Is a capital character sketch of this prominent young matron. She is the best known member of the British Colony in India.

Wild Bill's Encounter With the McCandlas Boys,

The newest Wolfville Story, by Alfred Henry Lewis, is graphically told in the language of the Old Cattleman.

St. Louis High School,

One of the best managed educational institutions in the West, will be described and pictured.

The Sunday Republic Comic Section,

With the full page-drawing for the childrento color, will be another unique feature of this

The color contest is becoming more interesting every week.
